

We would like to invite you to join us for the 2025 Wilson Ornithological Society Conference.

We are working together to plan a dynamic scientific program to share the latest scientific work around ornithology and avian conservation in Los Angeles California at Loyola Marymount University on June 23 - 25, 2025.

This meeting will bring together professionals, students, and amateurs in ornithology and avian conservation from across the Western Hemisphere and beyond. We hope you will join us for an exciting meeting, including great talks, workshops, and plenaries.

About the Conference: The 2025 Conference will offer a series of workshops, plenary talks by world experts, oral and poster sessions, and symposia on various subjects, always related to ornithology and avian conservation. We will also offer training and career advancement events for students and early professionals.

Your sponsorship is especially important to a scientific conference such as ours. Academics, students, and other ornithologists often have limited travel support for conference attendance. Your contribution will help keep registration costs affordable for many people who might not otherwise be able to participate in our conference. THANK YOU!

Our attendees: About half of our attendees hold advanced degrees and usually conduct bird-related research at universities, natural history museums, bird-banding stations, state and federal agencies, with interests in conservation and the biology of wild birds. Our meetings also strongly support the attendance of students and amateur ornithologists, who account for approximately the other half of the attendees. We expect 100–120 people to register at this meeting; most of them from the US and Canada, although we frequently have attendees from Mexico and other countries within Central and South America.

Location: Our 2025 meeting will be held in Los Angeles, California on the campus of Loyola Marymount University.

Venue/Accommodations: The conference is at Loyola Marymount University, and there will be on campus housing available in the dorms, and there are several hotels within a short walk of campus. For more details see the conference website wos2025.org

Sponsorship

Our venue includes abundant indoor outdoor spaces we'll be using during the conference and there isn't a good space for vendors, so we are not planning to have a vendor space, but we are glad to include an item or items from our sponsors in the conference bag and have folks from your organization attend our meeting.
